(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 17.—Joseph W. Harriman, under indictment for alleged alteration of the books of the Harriman National Bank and Trust company, which he formerly headed, disappeared from the Regent Nursing home today.

The aged banker took a taxicab to the Liberty street ferryhouse, and was seen by the driver of the cab to enter the building, presumably to take a boat to the New Jersey side of the Hudson river.

Alarm Is Spread
Harriman disappeared from the nursing home, where he has been under treatment for months, by a service entrance. A few minutes later his absence was noticed by a nurse. The nurse immediately gave an alarm, and the nursing home communicated with Col. William J. Donovan, Harriman's chief counsel, who in turn notified police and federal authorities.

An alarm was broadcast for the taxicab the number of which was noted by pedestrians. Meanwhile federal authorities notified guards to be on the lookout for the banker at all piers in this city and along the Canadian border.

Police learned of the banker's trip to the ferryhouse through Walter Dunbar, driver of the taxicab, who was informed when he returned from his trip that an alarm had been broadcast for his cab.

Dunbar said the banker appeared normal during the ride downtown, but had very little to say. The driver waited only long enough to see the banker disappear into the ferryhouse, and then drove away.

Second Disappearance
Today's disappearance was Harriman's second from the nursing home. He first "slipped away" from the home May 19 last, and a few minutes after he was found the following day he stabbed himself over the heart. The wound, however, was not serious, and he was able to return to the nursing home a short time later.

The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury, charged Harriman with making fourteen false entries in the books of the bank, involving more than $1,500,000. A subsequent indictment, in addition to charging falsification of the books of the bank, alleged Harriman had misappropriated funds of the institution.

An inquiry to determine the banker's mental fitness to stand trial has been under way in federal court for more than a week and was scheduled to be resumed today.

Depression Is Over for These Folks

Million Working Men and Women Get Back To Better Days

By JAMES COPE,
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 17.—For nearly a million working men and women the depression is as good as ended today, their wages suddenly lifted to the purchasing level of better days by voluntary cooperation of industry with government.

For hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions more, the day holds forth hope of similar good luck in the immediate future.

On New Schedule
Textile workers all over the north and south went back to their mills this morning on a 40-hour work-week schedule, at rates of pay intended to give them the purchasing power of 1929.

In steel mills, labor today is earning 15 per cent more than last week—in some cases even better—a boost back to the level of 1932. In countless other industries which have submitted or soon will submit their so-called codes of fair competition, the promise of a real living wage to workers is nearer realization.

This is the fruit of intensive work by Hugh S. Johnson and a corps of aides told off by President Roosevelt to administer the industrial control plan of the national recovery law, mainpring of his program for restoring prosperity.

Originally, all this day was to bring was beginning of operation for the cotton textile industry's code. By it 450,000 workers were to go on the 40-hour week with all wages increased, in their present proportion, above minimums of 12 a week in Dixie, 13 elsewhere.

Others Come In
But the other textiles, with codes hastily framed, asked to come under cotton's labor terms today. The President last night signed executive orders effecting agreements with each. Estimates of the additional number of workers involved were indefinite but 250,000 was considered conservative.

Steel proclaimed its raises without waiting for presidential sanction. The much smaller cement industry has asked approval for quick increases and limited hours. The underwear industry will vote the first of the week on joining the cotton procession. Wool men, with a code now awaiting hearing, may join the speeded movement.

The new quickstep of business, shoved into the background a plan of Johnson's for issuing a general call to all business to raise wages and create new jobs by cutting the hours of present employees. It was talked over in great detail yesterday on the deck of the presidential yacht Sequoia between the President and his administrator but the ultimate decision was put off.

Lithuanian Fliers Die In Crash Over Germany; Post Goes On

The small group which saw Capt. Stephen Darius and Stanley T. Girenas, Lithuanian-born Chicagoans, take off from New York on a non-stop flight aimed at their native land, is seen gathered around the plane a moment before it taxied upon the field and zoomed away. Today the bodies of the fliers were found beneath their plane after a crash in Germany.

Mrs. Wiley Post bids her globe-flying husband goodbye as he takes off from New York, and goes home to wait anxiously for him to return from another air adventure, an eight-day ordeal she endured with composure in 1931, when he spanned the globe with Gatty.

MRS. MELLINGER, AGED 87, IS DEAD

One of City's Oldest
Residents Succumbs
At Home

(By Associated Press)
ALTON, Ill., July 17.—The release by a kidnap gang of August Luer, aged and wealthy banker, today had stilled deep anxiety for his safety, but created a controversy over how much, if any, ransom was paid.

Freed early Sunday on a highway near Collinsville, Ill., the 77-year-old and almost invalid man was returned to his home several hours later by department of justice agents.

The officers were called to a report conducted by Mrs. Grace Miller, where Luer appeared and announced his identity. He said he walked a half-mile from the place where he was ejected from a motor car.

He related a story of physical and mental suffering while detained for more than five days in a chilly, musty and tiny sub-basement.

Carl Luer, his son, asserted "we didn't pay a cent of ransom." Many well informed persons believe, however, that a ransom of $10,000 changed hands.

The elderly man, seized last Monday evening in his own home here by two men and a woman, suffers from frequent heart attacks. Fear that he might die while in custody was believed in some quarters to have been the motivating influence in his release.

"We'd never have touched you, pop, if we'd known you were so weak and sick," Luer said he was told by one of his abductors.

In Good Health
A physical examination late yesterday revealed that Luer was in remarkably good health, concerning the poor condition of his heart and the ordeal he suffered.

He said he never saw the faces of his captors, and his inability to describe them added more difficulty to a search for the gang, inaugurated immediately by federal, state and county officers. During the last days of his captivity police were inactive at the request of the banker's family.

County Will Have

LISBON, July 17.—Despite the fact that a number of fair board members throughout the state have indicated county fairs will be discontinued for the current year, H. E. Marsden, secretary of the Columbian County Agricultural society, said today that the Columbian county fair would be held this year as usual.

Numerous concessions have been granted and applications from others are now on file, to be acted upon at the next meeting of the board of managers. The fair here this year will run three days, Sept. 12, 13 and 14.

LITHUANIAN PLANE PLUNGES INTO TREES

Bodies of Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas Discovered In Forest South of Sol-din, Germany, Beneath Ship

POST ENROUTE TO NOVOSIBIRSK

Stops, Meantime, At Koenigsberg, Germany and Pays Surprise Visit to Moscow As Result of Mechanical Troubles

(By Associated Press)
SOLDIN, Pomerania, Germany, July 17.—The airplane Lithuanica, in which Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas were attempting a non-stop flight from New York to Lithuania, crashed early today at Kuehdam and both fliers were killed. Kuehdam is five miles south of Soldin.

Bodies Under Plane
The plane was discovered in a forest. The bodies of the airmen were under it.

A local farmer heard the crash about seven o'clock this morning but the actual discovery of the ship was not made until a few hours later.

A party of aviators and police officials left immediately from Berlin for Soldin.

Soldin is situated on a lake of the same name near the border line of the two Prussian Provinces of Neumark and Pomerania. Police surmised that the aviators in attempting to land, mistook treetops for a meadow.

There was some doubt about the exact time of the crash. Investigators said the bodies indicated the men died sometime between 3:00 and 5:00 a. m.

Wings Hanging From Trees
When gathering berries said they heard a machine about five o'clock and the noise suddenly ceased. Later a forest discoverer found the plane, with the fliers buried beneath and the wings hanging from trees.

A rural policeman found a route map, copies of Chicago newspapers and a pouch with letters on which were the names of Darius and Girenas and also of Victor Vesugliates of Wilkesbarre, Pa. (who served as the mechanic for the aviators).

A guard was placed at the scene by the police, and for the time being, the bodies were left there.

BALBO TO VISIT AT WHITE HOUSE

Flight Commander Accepts Invitation from Roosevelt

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 17.—General Italo Balbo accepted today an invitation to visit President Roosevelt at the White House late this week.

Postmaster General James A. Farley presented the president's invitation while the Italian air minister was paying an official call at the city jail.

The capital city, however, probably will not have a visit from the fleet of 24 Italian seaplanes, which completed the first mass flight from Europe to America when it dropped down on Lake Michigan at Chicago's front door Saturday.

General Balbo said the return trip would start Wednesday morning, the armada flying directly to New York.

The Italian visitors will remain in New York for several days, leaving the ships at anchor while the commander makes a special trip to Washington, probably by automobile or train, or in an American plane. After the visit to the capital, General Balbo will rejoin his flight comrades in New York and prepare for the crossing of the South-Atlantic to the Azores and Italy.

Costs City Plenty
To Collect $5.50
PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—That pump handle shall not turn today. Three policemen, leaning against a gasoline tank in eight-hour shifts, will see to that.

They started Thursday noon at the service station of Charles H. Williams and, at $5 a man each day, the cost is already $60.

It seems the city says Williams owes it a $5.50 fee and he's got to pay no matter what it costs to collect.

Mrs. Curran, who formerly lived at Leesburg, had been in ill health.

KEEP MOVING!

Anticipation of a period after adjournment of congress in which perplexed minds would have time to assimilate details and purposes of the recovery plan now is seen to have arisen from hope than anything in fact. Experience all has been in the other direction. The speed of developments, rather than retarding, has been accelerating.

Within the last few days industrial codes have been clattering down on the bowed heads of Washington's busy bureaucrats. They have followed each other with such rapidity that little more than their outlines could be followed. Ohio, with acute interest in mining, steel and agriculture, has had codes for all these activities to consider, in addition to those for less fundamental activities.

Obviously, the most one can hope to do in the press of so many important developments is to strive to keep track of direction. Even to do that requires some standard of direction—some definite location from which the field can be surveyed. Perhaps the standard is stated most clearly in President Roosevelt's oft-repeated objectives for the recovery movement.

It is the President's aim to increase employment by shortening hours of labor and at the same time to raise prices and wages by increasing the rate of remuneration. Surveying the codes that have been submitted, the observer will have to concede that they aim in the right direction. Management is following the course outlined for it. Progress necessarily is confused and troubled; it must be remembered that no nation ever dreamed of making over its economic machinery by a peaceful method before.

There will be injustices and bungling. There will be individuals and groups convinced by their observations that the administration is making a terrible mistake. There will be, to some extent, crowd hysteria and the vicious bitterness of enraged minorities. Undoubtedly, if these things become too common, the recovery program will have failed. Fortunately, a visible majority is honestly dedicated to the task of making the program work. In the midst of much confusion, this majority believes it can see progress being made and the objectives of the recovery program being brought closer to realization. No nation could believe so wholly in what it is trying to do and fail. The present slogan is "Keep Moving." There's no time to waste in balking and second-guessing now.

THRILL OF A LIFETIME

It's risky business, predicting what thrills may be in store tomorrow and the day thereafter. For today, however, there can be no doubt. The formation flight by Italian airmen from their home field to the exposition at Chicago has shaken imagination loose and converted it into an extravagant outpouring of praise. To thousands gathered in Chicago and to other thousands who strained for a sight of the Italian planes along the flight route an unique sight was the reward. To say it will not be offered again soon is presumptuous, but to doubt that any government and any air ministry will repeat soon so expensive and daring a project is sound reason. Americans have been privileged to see a thing that no future generation can see, because they have seen a great trans-oceanic flight ending at an inland point completed for the first time.

If it has any special importance—it is far more enjoyable to think of it purely as a great adventure—that importance consists of the potential military use of the airplane that has been demonstrated. Paradoxically, it has been proved by a peaceful mission that an air armada could invade inland United States from a base on this continent and return to that base within a few hours' time. Fortunately, proof is offered in the interests of peace. The flight is an elaborate gesture of friendship from the Italian government—a gesture which this nation, owing much to its Italian strain, appreciates sincerely.

What Others Say

THE I. Q. IN MARRIED LIFE

A group of club women out in Kansas, yearning for relief from the study of Shakespeare and the Italian Renaissance, undertook to investigate the intelligence of their husbands. The trouble with any such investigation is that the field is necessarily limited unless a club has an unusually large membership, and this particular organization seems to be a small one. Still, the study of a small cross-section of marital life may have value.

We say it "may have value" because any search for the intelligence quotient of the individual, male or female, depends upon the fairness of the test. In this case the test prescribed for the determination of the quotient does not seem to have been fair. Does the husband throw newspapers around? Does he drop cigars or cigar ashes on the rug instead of in the ash-tray? Does he remember anniversaries, close the windows when it rains, admit mistakes, offer help with the dishes, refrain from criticizing the food?

The report is that not one of the husbands investigated scored so high as 50 per cent. Small wonder. The Kansas spouses who are thus given a low intelligence quotient may very well answer that the test was not one of intelligence but one of behavior, and behavior is not necessarily a measure of intelligence. Carlyle, who is reputed to have thrown teacups at his excellent and long-suffering wife, would have rated less than 50 per cent in behavior, but his intelligence quotient was considerable.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Stars Say:

For Tuesday, July 18

The planetary forces for this day assist to a very vigorous and energetic launching of affairs, with much bold initiative as well as dogged determination and industry, all of a practical and constructive nature, albeit under an exaggerated degree of excitement and impetuosity, which may divert success into critical or perilous channels. There are splendid urges to success but be on guard against trickery, fraud and peculiar methods of undermining. Be wise and calm in all efforts.

Those whose birthday it is will find themselves under excellent urges to attack big projects with courage, boldness, practical and constructive efforts and dogged hard work, but these may be negated by rash and violent impulses or strife. Also be on guard against subtlety and treachery or peculiar "schemes."

A child born on this day may be bold, courageous, industrious, practical, full of zeal and ardor, which should be kept under wise control and direction.

The Runaway

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Diary of a modern Peppas. Breakfasting with Stuart Price. Then walking a short skitter with Keats Speed and Harlowe Anderson, who wrote the famous editorial "Lindbergh Flies Alone." Thence to my quarters to hear that a motorist deliberately ran over a neighbor's dog, and went all sick inside.

In the afternoon Harry Mack Reed and Willis Wood Williams, Plattsburg, Mo., youths attending Princeton and Yale, called. And I remembered their mothers as two of the fairest maidens of our town. Jimmy Durante wires me earnestly he has not gone Back Bay but is the same old Jimmy, hot-cha-cha and all.

To Billy and Phyllis Seaman's spread for the William Gaxtons and a goodish gathering of stage folk. And Sam H. Harris introduced a politely cold-muffin lady as beautiful as ever I saw, but whose name I did not catch. So home and my wife read "Anthony Adverse" to me, a noble tale.

Frankness comes to street begging not without appeal. On West 45th street today a blowy fellow tumbled out of a doorway, and extending an empty bottle implored: "Cap, gimme 15 cents to fill this. I don't want a drink now, but in the morning when I'll sure feel terrible."

The swankiest gesture in book publishing was accomplished by William K. Vanderbilt in his privately published account of his eight month cruise below the equator in his yacht Alva. The edition was limited to 1,000 copies and only 50 were offered for sale—and these, owing to elaborate and costly illustration, were within purse reach of only blue-chip nabobs. Vanderbilt himself navigated every knot of the 20,000-mile voyage.

I know a man who has written the frankest autobiography ever penned. He has set aside a sufficient sum in his will for publication posthumously in case his publisher balks. He spares no one, not even himself, and gives astonishing insights into the celebrity racket. He expects it to have a sale of 100,000 copies at $2 each, profits going to his widow.

Personal nomination for the most refined taste in clothes on the screen—that of Myrna Loy.

Broadway's topsy-turviest romance once more reaches placid waters. Neil Andrews, rich young manufacturer, and Dorothy Hall, platinum star, again married, are seen everywhere in perfect accord after a trial divorce six months ago. The cross currents of the White Way whirl that often tossed them on the rocks has been given much headline importance. One week they were like this and next as far apart. . . . as this. During separation they tried to appear indifferent, but sometime during the evening they would manage to appear in the same spot with different escorts. And that would tickle the blabbers.

The best of Christopher Morley's musings in "Mandarin in Manhattan" I believe, is this:

Excellent fellow was that friend of mine
Who, needing a motto for his sun dial,
Inscribed it:
It is later than you think!

Thingumabobs: Al Jolson's first stage appearance was with Ed Rush's Burlesquers. . . . Montague Glass's plays are billed in Russia "by Montague and Glass." . . . Crystal Hearn, the actress, lives in New York's oldest apartment house, The Stuyvesant. . . . Rove Coghlan also lived there as did Edwin Booth's parents. . . . Miss Eleanor Robeson Belmont is considered the best woman speaker in New York. . . . John Erskine's dining room is checkered in black and white. William Muldoon told friends before his passing that tobacco was the greatest foe of humanity. . . . Max Baer is listening to the advice of no one but Jack Dempsey, his idol.

I smiled inwardly but superiorly at a sweet young thing at tea who, never having imbibed, was pressed to take a drink. As a Jeeves came along the lady next the sweet young thing asked for a Martini with lots of Martini in it. The s. y. t. requested "a Bronx with plenty of Bronx, please." I say I smiled, yet I was the bright boy who ordered from a Paris cafe menu Tournes, Chateaubriand and filet mignon, receiving, naturally, three steaks!

HEALTH

Value Of Liver Diets

At one time pernicious anemia was a dreaded affliction. You know how cancer is feared. I am sure many of you will be surprised to learn that not so long ago pernicious anemia was a disease as greatly feared as cancer is now.

For many years experimental research endeavored to discover a vaccine or serum that would cure pernicious anemia, or retard the ailment. Until the value of the liver diet was discovered, pernicious anemia was a rapid and fatal disease. Today, liver extracts are prepared in several different forms. They are administered to sufferers from this disease with great success. Those who in former years would be doomed to an inevitable fate are now entirely cured.

The Symptoms

Pernicious anemia is a blood disorder that is often confused with other ailments of the blood. Merely because a person is pale and "anemic looking" does not mean he is a sufferer from pernicious anemia.

You have often heard the expression, "he is so anemic looking." Many a mother takes her child to the doctor and says, "Johnny is anemic, please prescribe some medicine to give him a better color."

It is true that the anemic patient is pale, but he usually has other symptoms that must not be overlooked. He complains of poor appetite, faulty digestion and shortness of breath upon the slightest exertion. As a rule the victim of this disease tires quickly and has no "pep" or vitality.

In addition to these symptoms, he has headache, nausea, vomiting and spells of dizziness. What is most confusing is that the patient seems to recover suddenly from these attacks and for a period of time is in excellent health. Unfortunately, this improved state of health is temporary and within a short time it is followed by a relapse. As time goes on the relapses are more frequent and the periods of good health shortened.

The diagnosis of this affliction is easily made and confirmed by the physician. He resorts to the taking of a blood count in all suspected cases. Though the case of pernicious anemia is not known, the profound effects of this disease are strikingly shown by an examination of the blood. In this examination an estimation is made of the number of red blood cells and of the amount of "hemoglobin" or coloring matter of the blood.

In pernicious anemia there is a marked decrease in the number of red blood cells and a loss of hemoglobin. In addition, the red blood cells are imperfectly constructed and have poor color. When these characteristic signs are found in a blood examination, the diagnosis of pernicious anemia is confirmed.

Fortunately, as I have stated, this disease can now be cured. It should never be neglected and proper measures should be taken at once.

She Sought Adventure, Found It

ELIZABETH JACOBSON

Tired of her prosaic job as typist in Brooklyn, N. Y., Elizabeth Jacobson, 19, got her parents' permission to see the world alone, went adventuring. She had read a book about the annual grain "race" of the last of the windjammers from Australia to England, went there and shipped as the lone feminine apprentice on a Finnish bark, the first U. S. girl ever to participate in the race, which is not a sports event, but an effort of captains to beat each other to market. She did a regular sailor's work in the 100-day voyage. She's back home, filling up on ice cream and chocolate, the things she missed most.

when they reached Moscow. Post made the trip from Koenigsberg to Moscow in 5 hours and 35 minutes and had therefore an elapsed time of 50 hours and 10 minutes on his arrival in the Soviet capital.

Ahead of Previous Time

He was behind the schedule he had arranged for himself, but was 4 hours and 24 minutes ahead of the flight he made with Gatty.

The Oklahoma lost time in Berlin because of delays in refueling and later in Koenigsberg because of an H's monoplane swooped down suddenly out of the west, circled October field, and then made a perfect landing. The airman took by surprise airport officials and foreign correspondents, who had not expected him to halt in Moscow, particularly because he spent the night at Koenigsberg, a comparatively short distance away.

Post climbed out stiffly as his plane taxied to a halt. He swayed from exhaustion after his first touch of the ground.

"I need some work on the ship and also some gas and oil," he said. Airport officials hustled him into a private room at airdrome headquarters and a doctor examined him.

The airman gave orders to remove the cowl of a motor. Aviators said this indicated he had experienced some mechanical difficulty.

It was noted that the plane was dripping gasoline from the undercarriage just below the pilot's seat. This, airman said, indicated a leak in one of the main tanks.

SUNSET PARK TOSSERS UPSET SALEM, 9-6; PLACENTIA WINS, 8-3

SANDERS HURLS GOOD BALL BUT LOSES VERDICT

Errors Fatal to Locals; Minerva Bows To Lake Combine

Brilliant slab work of John (Pete) Sanders went for naught as his team committed eight fielding misplays and the Salem Semi-Pros literally handed the Sunset Parks of Alliance a 9-6 decision in a closely played fracas at Sunset Park Sunday.

Outpitches Kibler
Sanders looked far superior to the vaunted Duwain "Lefty" Kibler, ace of the Sunset mound staff, allowing but eight hits and fanning six batters, but his defense faltered badly in pinches and handed the home team five runs.

Salem clouted offerings of Kibler for 12 safeties, including two-base wallop by Scott, Mattevi and Mike Sartick. Kibler walked three batters and hit two.

Alliance was held scoreless the first three frames but scored seven in the next three and brought in two more in the eighth. Bistruf cracked out a homer for the winners.

Plays Liverpool Sunday
Salem played with a patched-up lineup due to the absence of several regulars. The team is slated to oppose East Liverpool at Centennial park next Sunday afternoon.

Rosenbloom Passes Up Title Contest

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 17.—Maxey Rosenbloom might have defended his light heavyweight championship against Mickey Walker here this week but the Harlem clown elected to continue his barnstorming in the far west instead.

He'll fight Fred Lenhart in a 10-round heavyweight match at Tacoma, Wash., Thursday, the same night he tentatively was booked to meet Walker in a title bout in Madison Square Garden.

Maxey declined to go through with the Walker match because he still is somewhat annoyed over a contract he alleges the Garden broke with him. The contract, he says, called for his appearance in a preliminary to the Sharkey-Camera heavyweight title fight.

HUDLIN TWIRLS TRIBE TO WIN IN LONG GAME

Classy Indian Pitcher Is Victor In 14-Inning Duel Sunday

Willis Hudlin, termed by more than a few experts as the most capable twirler on the Cleveland Indian staff, went far towards proving his right to that distinction as he pitched the tribe to a 2-1 victory over Boston Red Sox in a long, 14-inning game at Boston Sunday.

Error Costs Shutout
An error cost the hard-luck twirler a shutout, and during regulation nine innings, he allowed but one hit, that a fluke single by Dusty Cooke in the opening stanza. The foe got only five hits during the entire fray. Hudlin had the Bean-eaters helpless all the way. Pytlak the winning marker in the fourteenth.

The slump which strikes nearly every good ball club at least once a season, has hit the Washington Senators, just when they seemed to have first place in the American league packed away in moth balls.

A week ago, Washington, with 23 victories in 26 games, had pulled away to a 1-2 game lead over the New York Yankees. Then, as the Yanks started a streak, the Senators went wrong and today the clubs again were tied for the lead.

Browns Beat Senators
The Senators took a 7-0 white-washing from the St. Louis Browns yesterday, their fifth defeat in eight games.

The only other American league game saw the Indians defeat the Red Sox.

The Giants, national leaders, continued their career as "thiefless winners" by dividing a pair of 1-0 decisions with the last place Cincinnati Reds although they got only 15 hits in 24 innings.

Lucas Wins Long Game
The Reds won the opener, a 15-inning duel between Red Lucas and Bud Parnellee when Rollie Hemmley singled George Grantham home.

Manager Bill Terry produced the Giants tally off Paul Jacobie, and Johnny Vergez' single Derringer in the fourth inning of the night-cap.

Two of the Giants' principal rivals, the Cubs and Cardinals, also split doubleheaders, while Pittsburgh was kept idle by rain at Brooklyn.

The Cubs dropped the opener to Boston 2-1 when Wally Berger clouted his 17th homer of the year in the eighth inning. Chicago took the second game 3-1.

Bill Hallahan's flinging gave the Cards a 4-2 decision over the Phillies in the first game, but the Phils piled up eight runs in three frames to win the second, 8-2.

Friends Pull Fast One On Ring Fan

(By International News Service)
DETROIT, July 17.—John Panfil's practical joking friends are going home by way of the alleys.

Using a spurious microphone the jokers faked a broadcast announcing there would be no Schmeling-Baer fight because Baer had just been taken to a hospital for an emergency operation.

Panfil immediately went out and bet several unsuspecting persons two dollars each that there would be no fight. Total amount of his losses could not be determined.

Legion Youngsters Crack Out 23 Hits to Win One-Sided Tilt

Charles H. Carey post's youthful proteges cracked out 23 hits for 32 bases and easily overwhelmed Columbian Legion youngsters 9-3, at Columbian Saturday.

Salmon scored in every inning but the fifth and had no difficulty rolling up the big score on the losers.

Halverstadt cracked out a homer while Chappell hit a three-bagger for Salem. Ritchie, Chappell and DeRenzio had doubles.

NOTICE OF BOND SALE

Said proposals will be received at the office of the City Auditor of the City of Salem, State of Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday, August 1st, 1933, for the purchase of bonds of said city in the aggregate sum of $80,000.00, dated the first day of April, 1933. Said bonds will be eighty-three in number and numbered from one to eighty-three, both inclusive. Each of said bonds will be of the denomination of $1,000.00, except bonds Nos. one to eight, both inclusive, which will be in the denomination of $500.00 each; bonds Nos. nine to eighteen, both inclusive, which will be in the denomination of $200.00 each; bonds Nos. nineteen to twenty, which will be in the denomination of $250.00 each and bonds Nos. twenty-one to thirty-one, both inclusive, which will be in the denomination of $500.00 each, and will draw interest at the rate of six percent per annum, payable semi-annually, on the 1st day of April and October of each year until the principal sum is paid, upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons to be attached to said bonds. Any one desiring to do so may present a bid, upon presentation and surrender of their bearing a different rate of interest than hereinabove specified, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-fourth of one percent or multiples thereof. Such bonds will be due and payable as follows: Bonds Nos. one to twenty-five, both inclusive, on October 1st, 1934. Bonds Nos. twenty-six to thirty, both inclusive, on October 1st, 1935. Bonds Nos. thirty-one to thirty-five, both inclusive, on October 1st, 1936. Bids will be received also in open competitive bidding at public auction for said bonds at the office of the Auditor of the City of Salem, Ohio, starting at 12 o'clock noon, August 1st, 1933. Said bonds are issued for the purpose of refunding certain outstanding bonds of the City of Salem, Ohio, which have matured and have been approved by the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices of the State of Ohio and under authority of the laws of Ohio and the Uniform Bond Act and under and in accordance with a certain ordinance of said city entitled, "Ordinance No. 236629, An ordinance providing for the issuance of refunding bonds of the City of Salem, Ohio under Amended Senate Bill No. Nine," passed on the 26th day of June, 1933. The transcript for this issue has been approved by Messrs. Soule, Sanders & Dempsey, Counselors at Law, Cleveland, Ohio, and their qualified approving opinion will be furnished to the successful bidder, if desired, without charge. All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross amount of bids and accrued interest to date of delivery. All bids to be accompanied with a bond or certified check payable to the City of Salem for $500.00, upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth within thirty days from the time of award, said bond to be forfeited or said check to be retained by the city, if said condition is not fulfilled.

'Temple Drake' Billed Here; Clever Musical Concludes

PERHAPS the most talked of film of the year, "The Story of Temple Drake," comes to the State theater screen Tuesday for a two-day run.

Miriam Hopkins is "Temple." Miriam Hopkins, lovely and equally talented, enacts the title role and she is said to do excellently. One can easily believe that, because of her work in past pictures. Remember her delightful comedy in "Trouble in Paradise" with Herbert Marshall?

The hateful and ugly role of "Trigger" was given much consideration in Hollywood and it is no longer news that George Raft refused the role flatly and that Jack La Rue was handed the part. After all is considered one cannot blame either of the actors. Raft is a star in his own right and to take such an unusually dreadful part as "Trigger" would do him much more harm than good. Naturally his idea was to think how the public would respond. The role was so far from anything he had previously played, there was great doubt on his part as to how it would click, and so he turned it down and most wisely.

Stardom For La Rue
Now as for La Rue—he was a featured player, he needed something to make his name a popular one. The publicity that "Trigger" gave him was just what was missing—he took the part and the result is stardom.

William Gargan, the young chap who scored as the butler in "Animal Kingdom" and "Lucky Devils" is cast as Stephen Benbow, the lawyer in love with "Temple." Others in the cast include William Collier, Jr., Irving Pichel, Elizabeth Patterson and Florence Eldridge.

"MELODY CRUISE," playing for the last time this evening at the State is unusually good entertainment. Music, songs, comedy, laughter, girls and romance.

Good Cast, Grand Music
Charlie Ruggles is prominently cast and that's enough alone to make any picture a pleasure.

He's grand as Pete Wells, pal to Phil Harris, who looks like a double to Harry Richmond. Harris has a pleasing personality—perhaps you remember him in a recent short here entitled "So This Is Harris."

Others are Greta Nissen, Helen Mack, Marjorie Gieson, Chick Chandler, June Brewster and Shirley Chambers.

There are a lot of swell scenes but the ice ballad is especially fine. The story is completely set to music, every action of the players, every movement of transportation, every toot of the whistle and every word spoken forms a note in the melodic symphony.

If you're tired of heavy, soporific drama, this breezy musical novelty should be the remedy.

THE BAND BOX
Latest notes from Dance-land and the parks.

Ace Brigade and His Virginians return to Idora park pavilion for a one-night stand tonight.

Brigade's orchestra started on the road to prominence when he played for a full season at the Youngstown park in 1931.

Idora park is preparing for a near record crowd in the annual Italian Day celebration which will be held Sunday, July 23. Free dancing from 2 to 3 will be a feature.

Band concerts will be given by the Sons of Italy band. A special invitation has been sent to Primo Carnera, world heavyweight fight champion.

Dr. R. A. Lodge of Leetonia won third honors in the old-time fiddlers' contest held last week at Craig Beach. A "battle of music" between two bands, Don Robbins' orchestra and the "Arkansas Travelers" will feature the old-time dance tomorrow night.

Tommy Nichols and his radio orchestra will play at the dance at Liberty park, Washingtonville, Tuesday night. Nichols recently completed a long engagement at Lake Brady.

Don Dunham, 18, vocalist with Dimmick's orchestra at Craig Beach, is a former member of Dell Coon's orchestra of Chicago.

James Dimmick, Greenville, Pa., manufacturer, is the backer of the orchestra. His hobby for the last 15 years has been dance bands and he had some that have ranked among the best.

Bill Crookston, of Cleveland, radio tenor, made a hit at the Elks dance and party Saturday night.

STATE TO HOLD SPORTS OUTING

Three-Day Program Is Arranged For Camp
Perry Event

The department of conservation of the state has completed plans for a state-wide sportsmen's outing July 28-29 and 30 at Camp Perry.

The program will comprise a series of sports events, including shooting and fishing contests of various kinds.

On July 30, state-wide coon hunt trials will be held, with the state championship prize. Sportsmen who expect to attend must register by July 20. The fee is $1.50 and this will pay all expenses of the entry, including food and shelter at the camp during the three days.

Program of events and entry blanks have been received here by D. J. Buraw, secretary of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association, who will be glad to provide interested sportsmen with any information available.

Beer Gushes From Spring In Defiance

DEFIANCE, July 17.—A mineral water spring at Kingsbury park developed a decided taste of 32 beer and many was the beer lover who had visions of getting his fill of brew.

But city workers spoiled those hopes. They found that someone had put beer in the spring to cool, and that action of chemicals in the water had corroded the caps, permitting the brew to mix with the water.

PRESENT STEEL RATE TO CARRY

57 Per Cent Will Prevail
To August, More Buying
Is Seen

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—The current rate of 57 per cent in steel operations is expected by the magazine Steel to carry to the middle of August when, the publication said today, a revival of buying is likely.

The 57 per cent average of operations, the magazine said, reaches for the first time the 1930 trend line and compares with 58 per cent as the average for July in the five years, 1926-30.

It reported a broadening of specifications against contracts but a more pronounced tendency of consumers "to withhold further commitments, especially in view of the higher prices that would be applied."

On the other hand, it said, "steelmakers are confident of a revival of buying toward the close of July or early next month, as a comparatively small proportion of requirements for August and September have been covered. In the meantime, the majority of mills have sufficient backlogs to carry them at their present rate to the middle of August, and in a few instances all through next month."

The rate of 57 per cent represented a rise of two points, for the week in the national operating rate, with Cleveland jumping 5 to 87 per cent, Birmingham 2 to 77, Youngstown 3 to 66, Buffalo 8 to 62, Chicago 4 to 69, Pittsburgh 2 to 42, and eastern Pennsylvania 2 to 42.

The Wheeling, W. Va., district, it said, remains at 90 per cent and Detroit in operating at 55.

"Automotive consumption is undiminished," it said, "as broad-based placing orders for material for equipment repairs in a more satisfactory but not spectacular volume, farm implement manufacturers are more active; the oil and brewing industries' requirements are expanding, but building construction continues more in prospect than in actuality."

Grave-Digger Dies

HALF MOON BAY, Calif., July 17.—For the first time in 50 years some one besides Peter A. Giamocca dug a grave here.

It was for Giamocca himself, who died at the age of 71. He had been official grave digger since his youth.
